

SAMPLE PREVIEW-REVIEW SHEET

Sample Lesson 1 – Alzheimer’s Disease

description/cause-symptoms-
equipment considerations-

What is the meaning of cognitive ability?

What is dementia?

What is the meaning when Alzheimer’s is called a progressive disease?

What are the various negative consequences and impacts for the primary caregivers?

Sample Lesson 2: Toileting Needs

What are the 4 basic types of bedside commodes and for whom are they designed?

The raised toilet seat is installed with clips and brackets by attaching it to what?

True or False: Toilet safety rails are usually used in conjunction with a raised toilet seat.

Lesson 3: Put Your Best Voice Forward

From this lesson summarize at least 7 ways to use your best voice:

Sample Lesson 4: Billing Medicare

What are the 3 coverage principles for any type of home medical equipment covered by Medicare?

In addition to meeting the criteria for a fixed height hospital bed, what additional criteria must be met to qualify for a E0255 Hospital bed, variable height?

How about for a E0260 Hospital bed, semi-electric?

To qualify for a K0001 standard wheelchair, without use of the wheelchair, the patient would be either _____ or _____.

What additional conditions must be present to qualify for a K0003 Lightweight wheelchair over a standard K0001 wheelchair?

True or False: a K0004 is rarely medically necessary if the expected duration of need is less than 3 months.

To qualify for an E1390 Oxygen concentrator, there are several conditions that must be met. That includes symptoms that would improve with the use of oxygen, qualified blood gas levels tested either prior to discharge or at home while patient is in chronic stable state. What is the primary difference between Group I criteria and Group II criteria?

At what levels are patients presumably not covered for oxygen?

PO2 at _____ mm Hg

Arterial blood saturation at or above _____%

What criteria allow a patient to qualify for E00431 Portable gaseous system?

What are the two primary criteria that qualify a patient for a Standard Walker?